Enjoying his lunch, Swank carpenter Don Anderson beats the onslaught of famished inmates.

Changes reach to Wa-Hi core

Spirits positive despite disarray

by Trish Gillespie
Co-Editor

Organized chaos infiltrated our campus. Approximately 440 Freshmen invaded our once peaceful premises, bringing with them more than 20 additional staff members.

The construction of three buildings, the remodeling of the administrative offices, and overcrowding in the too-small gymnasium augmented the disorder.

Students missed the presence of a library this year while its books were being held hostage in the auto shop area until the completion of the updated facilities. A newly-implemented double-lunch schedule contributed to the fragmentation of student relations.

Despite all of the blatant disorganization, the general attitude of most participants seemed to be positive.

"The staff has accepted the move of the Freshmen very well and I have seen no problem with the students," explained Abe Roberts, who succeeded to Dick Neher's position of principal.

"I'm happy to be a Blue Devil," exclaimed Roger Cockerline, a faculty transfer from Pi-Hi, or PMS, as the old junior high is now called. "I hope I have as much fun as I've had in the first two months."

Corey Vink, superintendent of construction for the expansion project, expressed his appreciation of Wa-Hi.

"It's been fun," he said. "The faculty and the kids have been very cooperative."

The halls of knowledge prepare to house volumes of books in the new library.

It's a bird! It's a plane! No...it's a construction worker able to leap large steel gym beams in a single bound.

Portable classrooms made an appearance this year, outside the counseling entrance. Jason Sapp and Trevor Hawman reflect upon their lessons while Sheila Merson and Lyannae Larson beam with elation at their release.

A veritable cornucopia of library equipment waits for the completion of its new home.

This is a test. Which can sustain 50 pounds of weight? The weight room, supported by wires, or the new gym, supported by scaffolding?

Pieces of what looks like the Berlin Wall transform themselves into the walls of the new Wa-Hi gym.

99,000 slabs of wood on the ground. Pick one up, hammer it up, 98,999 slabs of wood on the ground.

Students take a brief reprieve from classes in the warmth of the afternoon sunshine.

Ken Imes and Mark Kirkpatrick are thinking about who their next egg victims are.

On Ninety

Carlos Martinez is hurrying to lunch.

Robert Kolar, Kati Beecroft, & Emil Jaquins are happy that Civics is over.

George White is trying to relax between classes.

Nick Lane, Ron McCauley, and Kyle Renard are enjoying the cole breeze.

Jason Osborn and Tresa Oliver are chatting on the way to lunch.

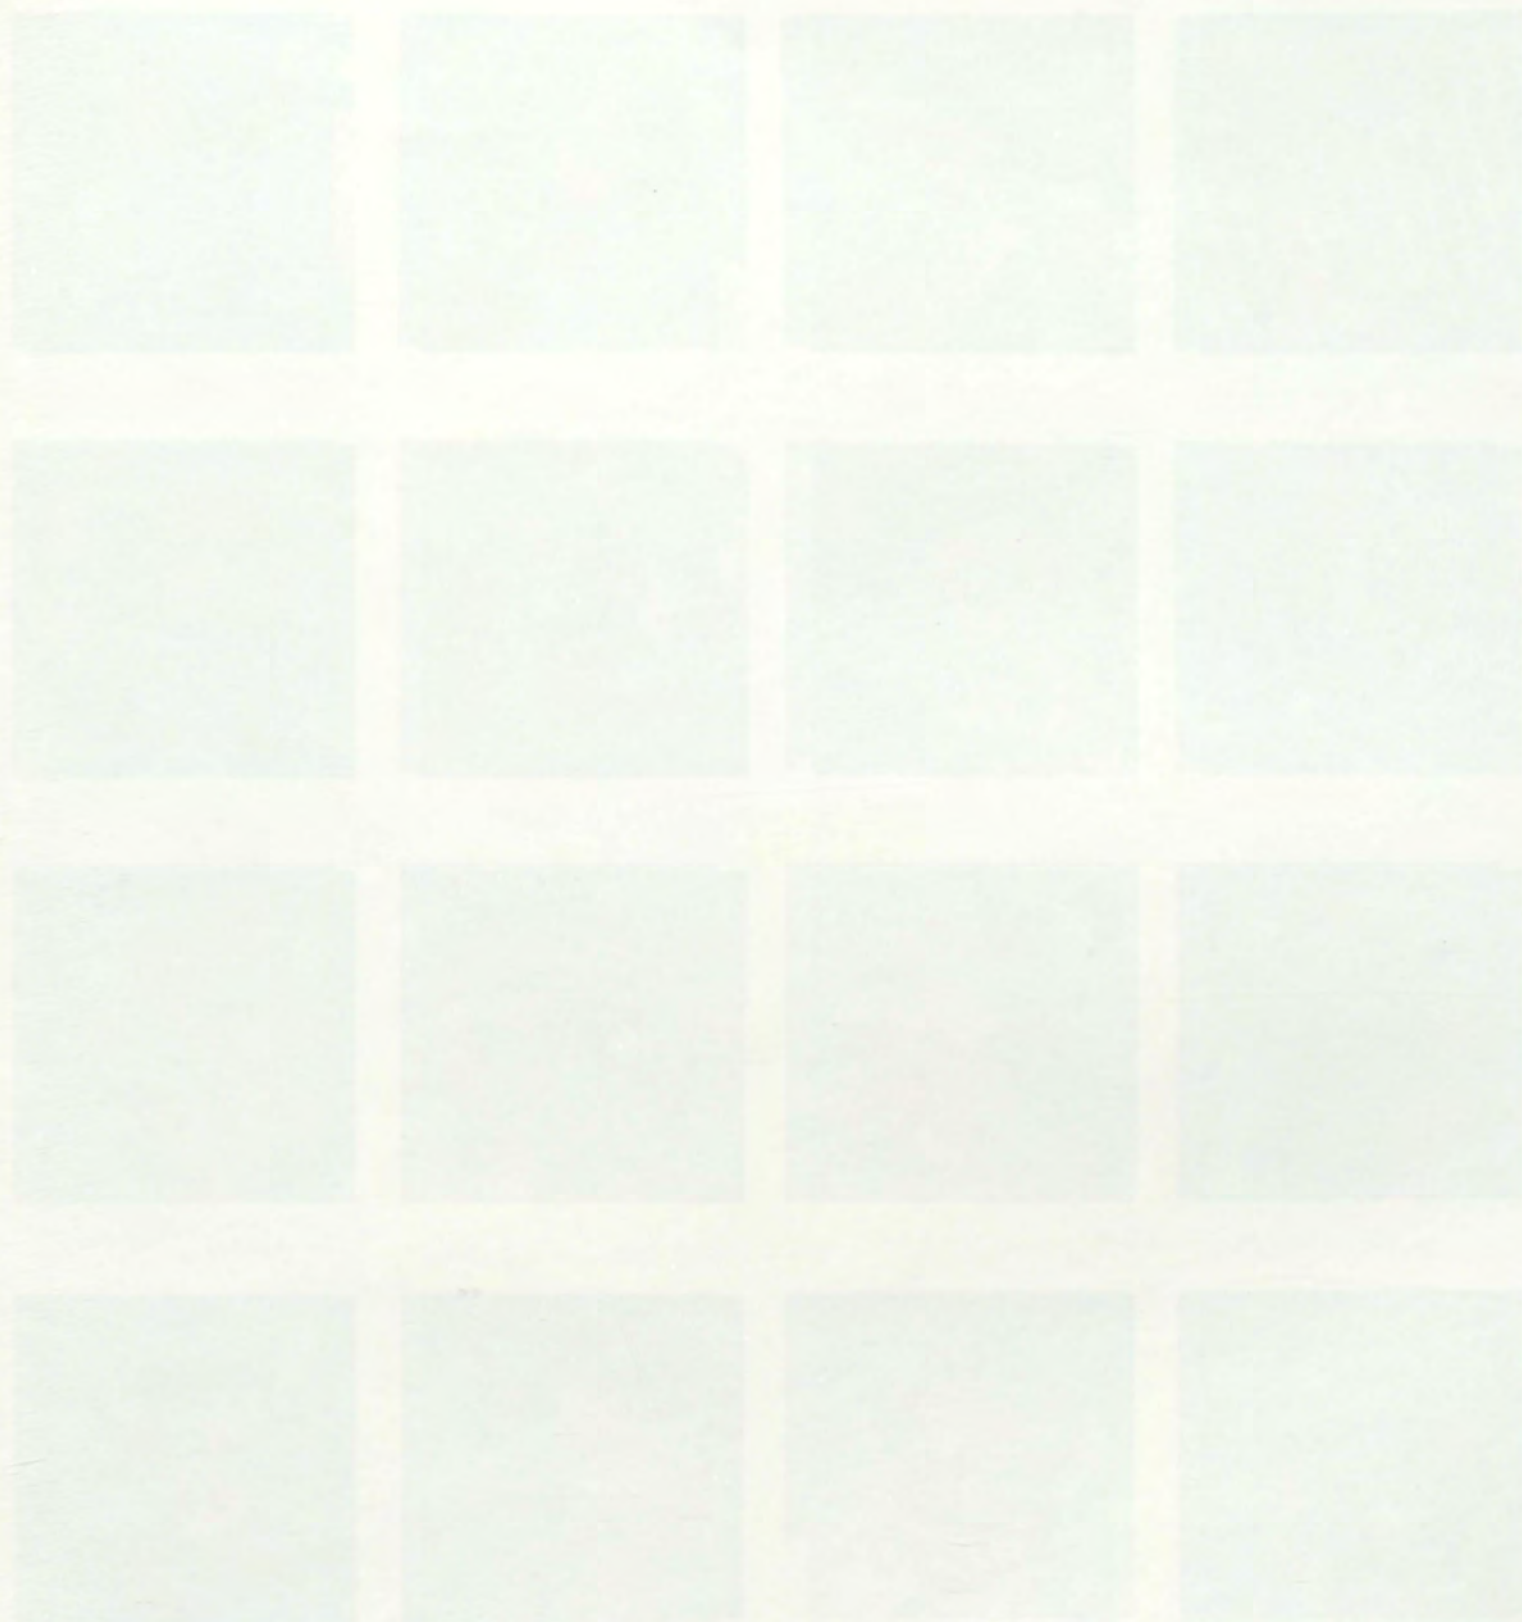

Kelly Snell is dreaming about being a professional football player.

Trying to think of math class instead of her boyfriend, Liz Murphy is anxiously waiting for the bell to ring.

A casual stroll across campus is no problem for Paige Lim and Marguerite McQuarrie, so long as the sun shines. Bryan Molsness, Tony McGuire and Jay VanDyke are better outfitted for the chaos that insues when mudslides develop.

A serene Kris Paul observes the assembling of students for morning classes.

ARGHHHHHHH!!! An aggravated Jage Betornay, accompanied by Doug Rudell and Mark Knowlton, releases a scream then continues to fourth period.

Towering over the locker lobby crowd is a strutting David Sirmon.

Lost in thought, Mike VanYserloo journeys to another class.

"Do you understand now?" Matt Dobler explains the meaning of life to Kevin Bain.

"No Way!!, There isn't really film in there!" kids Jennifer Saari.

Jeremy Littell, studying for fourth period class in a quite locker lobby during lunch.

Whoah! Amazed underclassmen stare upon Josh Timming's anti-gravitational hair.

ENCORE! Student Award Banquet

"Hmmm, what's in this brew?" Suzanne Berg wonders at the Encore! production of Funeral Tea.

Nichole Lane

"What's that floating in your gravy?" Lisa Delgadito says to her escort at the father daughter banquet.

"If I EVER catch you doing that again..." threatens Scott O'Laughlin.

"I did it the military way," John Peyton croons in his best Frank Sinatra impression.

The answer is 6298.164×910.6 over 44679 but Melinda Dean, Chi Cortinas and Poppy Glor have a hard time believing it.

Boys' Federation Cabinet, in charge of planning the Air Jam, included James Betornay, Matt Desmond, Chris Ryan, Secretary Kevin Bayne, Lance Sappington, Rich Hoalst, Chris Leonetti, Vice President Newey Gardner, ubiquitous Treasurer Joe Saladin, Steve Harwood and President Matt Christianson.

Science experiments are a highlight of Tri-Sigma's activities, as Paul Didelius, Mec Barclay, and Tiffany Bradley enthusiastically demonstrate.

Academic fardels travel state to compete for various awards

by Annette Farnes

Tri Sigma, Wa-Hi's math/science club, does services for the school, along with its regular activities. Some of their activities this year included cleaning out storage space upstairs, as well as raising money to replace the stereo system used for dances. Tri Sigma is also preparing demonstrations for a science fair, held Feb. 21, for elementary students.

JSA (Junior Statesmen of America) learn about the judicial system, Congress, and the government in general. JSA participates in a YMCA-sponsored mock trial each year, competing against Wa-Hi's Youth and Government. This year they attended Fall-State, a convention held in Seattle, which hosts JSA students from around the state. They also attend Spring-State where they will participate in a model Congress.

French club promotes the French language with special activities, including films, trips, and several fund-raisers. They sponsor an annual fund-raising frolic. French Club hopes to be able to treat themselves to a French meal at Patit Creek at the end of the year.

Junior Statesmen of America (JSA) are Corrina Heath, Judy Nielsen, Missy Young, Joe Pankl, and Jennifer Heath.

Second semester Legislative Assembly, elected from homerooms, met to discuss school issues.

LA voices student concerns

By Sheila Merson
co-editor

Student affairs are governed by the Legislative Assembly and the ASB Cabinet officers. The Legislative Assembly is comprised of representatives from each homeroom.

The cabinet, chosen by the A.S.B. president, is comprised of a number of students from each grade who then help carry out ASB activities.

The Legislative Assembly functions to allow students to express their feelings about any school-related issue they wish to. For example, at the beginning of the year the Legislative Assembly met and discussed whether students preferred to sit in the east bleachers or the west stands at Borleske Stadium. At the end of 1989-90 Legislative Assembly had voted to move the rooting section to the east bleachers. The Fall Legislative assembly voted at the end of the football season to let the whole student body vote to get the bleachers back.

The 1990-91 Junior cabinet are Terry Picknell, Sheryl Tunison, and Andy Emerson.

ROTC cadets learn skills for lifetime

by Dan Peterson

Walla Walla High School's Army Junior Reserve Officer's Training Corps provides a unique experience for the participating cadets. Training today's high school students to become tomorrow's leaders is the stated purpose of the program.

Leadership development is accomplished at four levels, each demanding more leadership skills than the preceding level. In their senior year, the cadets may become members of the Battalion Staff, which is responsible for running the Corps.

Highlights for the year include the Battalion Picnic, Military Ball, Spring Camp at Fort Lewis, and the Annual Review, at which awards are presented for outstanding performance in the program.

In addition to classroom instruction, the cadets may choose to participate in a special team. The Sponsors drill team, A-Team, Male and Female Color Guards, and the Rifle Team participate in the Northwest Drill and Rifle Conference, Washington State Drill and Rifle meet and ROTC regional competition as well as provide services for the community.

Angel L. Cockle

The Color Guard competes in the Northwest Drill and Rifle Conference, as well as supporting school and community activities. Last year the male team took first in the state. The current Male team is Jason Ordway, Jason Brown, Jon Peyton and Shane Kelly. Female team is comprised of Susan Yaw, Kris Atchison, Kim Amak and Michelle Bourquin. Alternates are Mike Richards, Carma Smith, Teresa Esser, Erin Remillara and Cari Hamilton.

A-Team is a high achiever in the Pudget Sound Drill Conference, State Drill Meets, as well as national championships. They have also been invited to compete nationwide. They are Commander Shane Kelly, Squad 1 Terra Lund, Melinda Sumerlin, Ryan Thrall, Jon Peyton, David Sullivan and Tim Kelley. Squad 2 is Mike Richards, Tyson Crudup, Dustin Meyers, Vern Pehl, Arthur Retamoza and Rachelle Thompson. Squad 3 is Jason Ordway, Arron Howell, John Sumerlin, Mike Duquett and Ryan Dagett. Squad 4 is David Mathews, Dan Buffalo, Mac Thompson and Jason Brown.

Sponsors is a precision drill team that has recieved numerous honors and they have also been invited to competitions in San Diego and Florida. Commanded by Terra Lund, Squad 1 is Melinda Sumerlin, Jennifer Harrison, Christina Record, Barbra Domingos and Rachelle Thompson. Squad 2 is Kacy Drake, Barbara Esser, Kris Atchison, Michelle Bourquin, Kim Todd and Laura Tammy. Squad 3 is Crystal Fenton, Teresa Esser, Carri Hamilton, Summer Lund, Angela Pehl and Kurkjuan Benividis. Squad 4 is Amanda Guinn, Carma Smith, Aaron Remillard, Dayna Smires and Alisha Rossman.

With an enviable record for success, the Rifle Team that engages in over 15 matches yearly includes Greg Heiman, Craig Ginn, Marcus Goodwater, Allen McGee; (2) Mike Klink, Dan Peterson, Jacob Miller, Steve Taylor.

Adviser Richard Decker, Angel Byrd, Luis Ocanza, Love Sannar and Ty Rennakar operate the Devil's Den for first lunch.

Second lunch Devil's Den crew includes Shannan Andersen, Toni Carter, Scott Mele, Dan Lackey, Adviser Richard Decker and Tim Mele.

Service organizations smooth operations

by Sheila Merson
co-editor

Service groups are concerned primarily with rendering services to the school and community. The service organizations are composed of the Distributive Education Club of America (DECA), the Wa-Hi Journal (School newspaper), Royal Blue 1991, Key Club and CREST.

DECA runs the Devil's Den school store, located in the Commons. The store is managed by members of marketing education classes, and carries a wide selection of junk food and school supplies. DECA is advised by Richard Decker.

CREST is a Girl's League honorary organization which furthers the interests and amount of service done for the school. To qualify, members must have model character and scholarship (2.5+ grade point average), and possess an outstanding service record. The contributions by each girl are kept track of through the CREST point system (20 as a sophomore, 25 as a junior and 30 as a senior). CREST points may be earned by helping with the Mother- and Father-Daughter banquets or with other school-related activities throughout the year. CREST is advised by Marcia Tomlin.

Going leaps and bounds beyond other Wa-Hi Journal staffs, this year's Wa-Hi Journal worked long hours striving to live up to the high standards they set for themselves despite computers that arrived in five or six months instead of a couple of weeks.

"I think we've delved more into tough issues this year with our new feature, the critical issue spread," said Associate Editor Sean Maguire.

Along with Editor-in-Chief Michael Mulkerin, the staff investigated tough issues including homelessness, teenagers on their own and the Iraqi crisis. Staff writer Mike Adams had a story about a local homeless man reprinted in the Walla Walla Union-Bulletin, while the staff was also profiled in the UB.

At the second semester break, seven members joined the illustrious staff as the Journal expanded to twelve pages, taking on medical ethics as well as lighter topics including the Brady Bunch and the Adventures of Connor.

Following spring break, many Journal staffers, along with two from the Royal Blue staff, attended the National Journalism Convention in Albuquerque, New Mexico, the second consecutive year that representatives from both staffs have attended the conference.

Thinking artistically and logically at the same time can really be stressful as is shown on Larry Dyer's profile.

Sitting together, Tammi Dexter, Sheila Merson and Bill Wendt work on their responsibilities for the annual.

After Alice Freilinger's layouts fall behind the file cabinet she reorganizes them yet again.

Holding the Wa-Hi Marching Band banner are Andie Banford, Tresa Oliver, Amy Bughi, Mary Shivill. On the step behind them are Sara Hellburg, Kathy Cortinas, Jay McCall, Ernie Schrader, Dan Koch, Zach Walters, Ann Hoxey, Amy Cornelius and Kristi Boschker. Behind them are Jennifer Dunham, Rich Owen, Janine Jones, Monica Anderson, Kathy Mulkerin, Christina Stephens, Stephanie Golay, Kristen Evensen, Lisa Wablinger, Cynthia Jennings, Aaron Remillard, Zamora Wilson, Christina Butler, Sara Erhlebach, Heather Shannon and Judith Willis. The third row is peopled by Bonnie Edwards, Kristen Blackaby, Kim Teske, Melita Rossi, Julie Henline, Rochelle Van Boening, Bridget Read, Quinton DeWitt and J.C. Spiva. The fourth row musicians are Theron Baker, Kevin Pfeifferle, Cindy Pfaunmiller, Dionne Robertson, Rhonda Gorman, Susan Ball, Meg Barclay, Nel Waldron, Amanda Walker, Jolene Taylor, Heather Lee, Kristen Dalquist, Annette Steinbeck, Trina Meyer, Cory Fish and Roger Cornell. Fifth row in the portrait are Adele Lewis, Shannon Stone, Troy Henderson, Eddie Simons, Jason Arbin, David Fischer, Jonathan Maland, Mike Skomski, Brian Bump, Will Stanton, Cory Hobbs, Ryan Sandvig, Sheryl Tunison and Heidi Farrow. Diverse interests are represented by traditional groups such as the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA), Future Farmers of America (FFA), the Future Homemakers of America (FHA) and the Ski Club as well as a large number of newly-formed special interest clubs.

Future Business Leaders of America is an organization available to students enrolled in business education courses. Its purpose is to encourage career training in business education. Advised by Marcia Smith, their activities included traveling to West Valley High School in Yakima for the Fall Regional Conference and selling Luv Pops. In February members also attended the Spring Regional Conference in Pasco. This conference includes workshops by professional speakers and competitive events in 30 different business areas such as keyboarding, accounting, business law, business English and job interview. After preparation at the regional level, members then attend the State Leadership Conference in Spokane with workshops and events, attended by students from across the state of Washington.

cational agriculture are eligible for membership in Future Farmers of America. The advisers of FFA are Mike Martin, Gary Ogden, and Charles Clark. FFA participate in livestock judging, public speaking and parliamentary procedure contests. Individual members participate in livestock shows and state and national conventions.

The Future Homemakers of America (FHA) must have completed one year or be enrolled in a home economics course. The purpose of the organization is to help individuals improve personal, family and community living through organized activities supplementing the homemaking education program in school. The advisor is Myrney Wagner.

Ski Club is composed of students interested in skiing and is quite active during the snowy season. Trips to various ski areas including the President's Day trip to Brundage Resort are planned with other coordinated activities. Their adviser is Harvey Wellington.

New groups begun this year include Ecology Club, Drawing/Painting, Sport Card Collectors, Outdoor Recreation, Financial Success, Design Club, Skateboarding Club, Shakespeare Club and Heavy Metal/Punk Rock Music.

The Future Business Leaders of America are top row Vikki Montemayor, Diana Rivera, Veronica Villalobos, Veronica Ornelas, Vice President Robin Gleason Rosa Herrera, Amy Jao, bottom row Talitha Base, Samantha Peterson, Mary Shivell, Amy Elledge, Reporter-Historian Stacey Hermann, Rick Saunders and President Matt Cady. Spirit crowds week

by Michelle Rambo

Homecoming week featured days of dressing up to show school spirit. Monday started it off with Pajama Day, Tuesday Crazy Hair Day, Wednesday Hats-Specs-Toga Day, Thursday Commando Day and Friday the traditional Blue and White Day.

Throughout the week, many activities showed school spirit and the competition between classes. It start with the first pep assembly of the week with seniors showing the most spirit. Wednesday was the big day to combine first and second lunches to get together with other classmates for class competitions.

First was the doughnut-stuffing contest in which the juniors took first place and the seniors finished close behind. Then was the suburban stuff, with the seniors first place ? 55 people.

To bring an end to an exciting Thursday was the battle between the 'Wild Things of 91' and the 'Wrecking Crew of 92' in the powder-puff football game. The seniors took the victory that night, leaving everyone excited about the game on Friday.

Friday night the varsity football team took on Davis High School. At half time, the festivities started with the announcing of the homecoming court. King Matt Desmond, Queen Laura Price, princes Bill Bloom, Chris Ryan, Scott O'Laughlin and Craig Sievertsen; and princesses Adele Bergevin, Stacy Lamb, Kristi Blocklinger and Amy Wilkins reigned. Then the traditional burning of the W and the fireworks. Though Wa-Hi lost 20-21, everyone was in good spirits at the "Stairway to Heaven" formal dance Saturday night.

The U.S. Senate rejected a constitutional amendment against flag burning on June 26, 1990 with critics arguing that it was already dead and being debated largely as ammunition for use against them at election time.

The Senate voted 58-42 in favor, leaving it nine short of the required two thirds majority needed to approve amendments.

President Bush called for approval of the measure, which said simply that "Congress and the states shall have power to prohibit the physical desecration of the flag of the United States."

But the House rejected it with Democratic leaders saying that it amounted to placing limits on freedom of speech. And Speaker of the House Thomas Foley said lawmakers would not get a chance to reconsider this year.

A legion of clipboard-toting counters sought out shelters, subways and steam grates in March of 1990 in the broadest attempt ever to find out the extent of homelessness in America.

Some homeless resented the government intrusion. "What are they going to use the numbers for anyway? To tell us there ain't no homeless problem? I'm a living example that there is a problem. We need jobs, not surveys."

 But now that it's happened,

 Hoping that none of them will

 Thinking of all the time it took

Three make Big 9 All-Conference

by Bill Holway

Although this year wasn't the best that Wa-Hi's varsity football team has had, with a two and six record, the team members said they had a good time and learned from their experiences.

As for individual players, Ron McCauley made it to the First All Conference Team. Two players, David Sirmon and Scott O'Laughlin, were named Second All Conference Honorable Mentions went to Peter Lewis, Adam Woiblet and Curtis Allen.

Highlights of the year included Peter Lewis's three interception passes in one game that tied Wa-Hi's record, and was just two short of tying the season record.

Scott Fernald had a good first year as quarterback. His 1258 yards passing put him second in the Big Nine. Sirmon needed just one more TD to tie his brother's (Thad Sirmon's) record of 12.

Special Awards, announced at the annual banquet, honored Team Captain Ron McCauley, David Sirmon as Most Valuable Offensive Player, Peter Lewis as Most Valuable Defensive Player, Todd Stubblefield as Most Inspirational Player, and Curtis Allen as Lineman of the Year.

The cross country season of 1990 was "one of the best in the fact that we were a closer team as friends," stated runner Mike Adams. The comrades competed against many different teams: Pasco, Richland, Kennewick, Moses Lake, Kamiakin, Eisenhower, Wenatchee and Davis, as well as participating in three invites: Edmonds, Sunfair and Mac-Hi.

All seven of the boys varsity members were veterans, in contrast with the girls' four. The girls varsity consisted of nine members. Boys varsity consisted of Curtis Steinback, Mike Adams, Mike Taylor, George Martinez, Adam Vargas, Bryan Molsness and Byron Ginn. Girls varsity consisted of Jolene Taylor, Christy Zapata, Jennie Close (of DeSales), Amy Anderson, Ana Martinez, Allison Turner, Norma Martinez, Amy Davis and Lisa Waiblinger.

The season ended with a third place in the Big Nine for the boys, and fourth for the girls. Jennie Close and Curtis Steinback both qualified for state.

Adams and Steinback finished off the season with The Athletic Conference (TAC) Cross Country Championships. Their team, which included other runners from the Big Nine conference, placed first at the District Championships in Cheney to qualify them for the Regional Championships in Sandy, OR. Steinback qualified as an individual at Regional, allowing him to move on to Nationals in Omaha, NE.

Standing with cross country moxie are Coach Mike Locati, Coach Jesse Briones, Andy Dwonch, George Martinez, Michael Martin, Norma Martinez, Jason Brown, Lisa Waiblinger, Anna Maria Shivell, Jolene Taylor, John Medina, Mike Hermeston, LaKresha Hylton, and Coach Jim Ebding. Wa-Hi's Cross Country awards banquet was held Nov. 14 in the Commons. The team members, their parents and the coaches were all present for much celebration. The evening started with pushing and shoving through the dinner line catered by Abby's Pizza.

As they completed their meal, a video of the season's highlights flashed upon the screen. Coach Jesse Briones then proceeded to the stage with Assistant Coach Jim Ebding to present the certificates and letters.

Most Inspirational runner went to Christy Zapata and Michael Adams. Most Valuable went to Jennie Close and Curtis Steinback. Both of these athletes went to State competition.

Most Improved went to Michelle Pacheco and Byron Ginn. All The runners showed a lot of effort and much improvement, according to Briones.

"This is my pizza, not yours, now get out of my face!" states Charles Isley.

School spirit makes comeback

by Mary Lynne Schroeder

This group of energetic, positive athletes has worked together since May of 1990. In July, they attended a leadership/ cheer camp in Ellensburg, Washington. There were 52 squads in attendance from all over the state.

At the conclusion of the camp, the squad was awarded a pep paddle--signifying their excellence in leadership, skill and spirit. Only nine of the 52 squads in attendance were awarded the paddle, a significant accomplishment.

The squad this year has been especially strong in their teamwork for tough stunts and dance. This has occurred through concentrated effort on being strong physically and being willing to take the risks involved in doing stunts.

Having a man on the squad also gives latitude to the degree to which they could do tough stunts because of the strength available in having a strong base person. They also have several on the squad who choreograph routines.

The group has been recognized by the Washington Interscholastic Activities Association as a distinguished scholastic group. This award is given to squads that have a combined grade point average of 3.0 - 3.49.

To be a cheerleader takes a combination of being a strong athlete, a leader, a friend, a diplomat, a crowd controller and an academic achiever!!!

When Craig Potter and following squad members show spirit for baby cheerleaders, Craig jumps the highest.

Crystal Fenton, Wa-Hi mascot, proudly doffs her mask to reveal a winning smile that makes her just as fun in class as on the field. 1990-1991 was her second year as the Blue Devil.

Celebrating in their conference shirts, the cheerleaders: Topping the pyramid are Laura Price, Carissa Bossini, and Amy Elledge. Standing as the base are Jenny Kuechmeister, Heidi Buettner, Stacy Lamb, Craig Potter, Amy Davis, Chaundra Tucker and Cami Griffith. Kneeling are Sarah Ledford, Angela Giard, Tina McClanahan, and Tammi Cunningham. Doing the splits are Cinnamon Fry and Kendra Rogers.

Girls field a strong team

by Paul Carbajal

The 1990 sports season proved to be one tough strive for the girls soccer team. In an all-out attempt for a victorious record, they did in fact, do their best in showing some courageous effort.

As for whether what is euphemistically called a building season is worth the effort, both Bonnie Edwards and Jennifer Saari said they had expected to do better than they did, but over all, they claim they played very well, or at least better than last year.

"It may have been a tough season, but it was still fun!" Edwards said.

Characterized as a powerful team, Wa-Hi is expecting to come back even stronger for 1991 when the girls and Coach Keven Peck take to the field again.

Youthful exuberance pays off

by Larry Dyer

The Wa-Hi wrestling team last year had a great season. Predictions were made that this year would be just as good. This prediction was realized by several young, and yet very talented team members. The Wa-Hi boys did a great job of beating out most of their competition, with an overall season record of 11 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. The team is relatively young, but knows its way around the mat.

"The team is an experienced one; it's been a fun season," stated senior wrestler Craig Sievertsen.

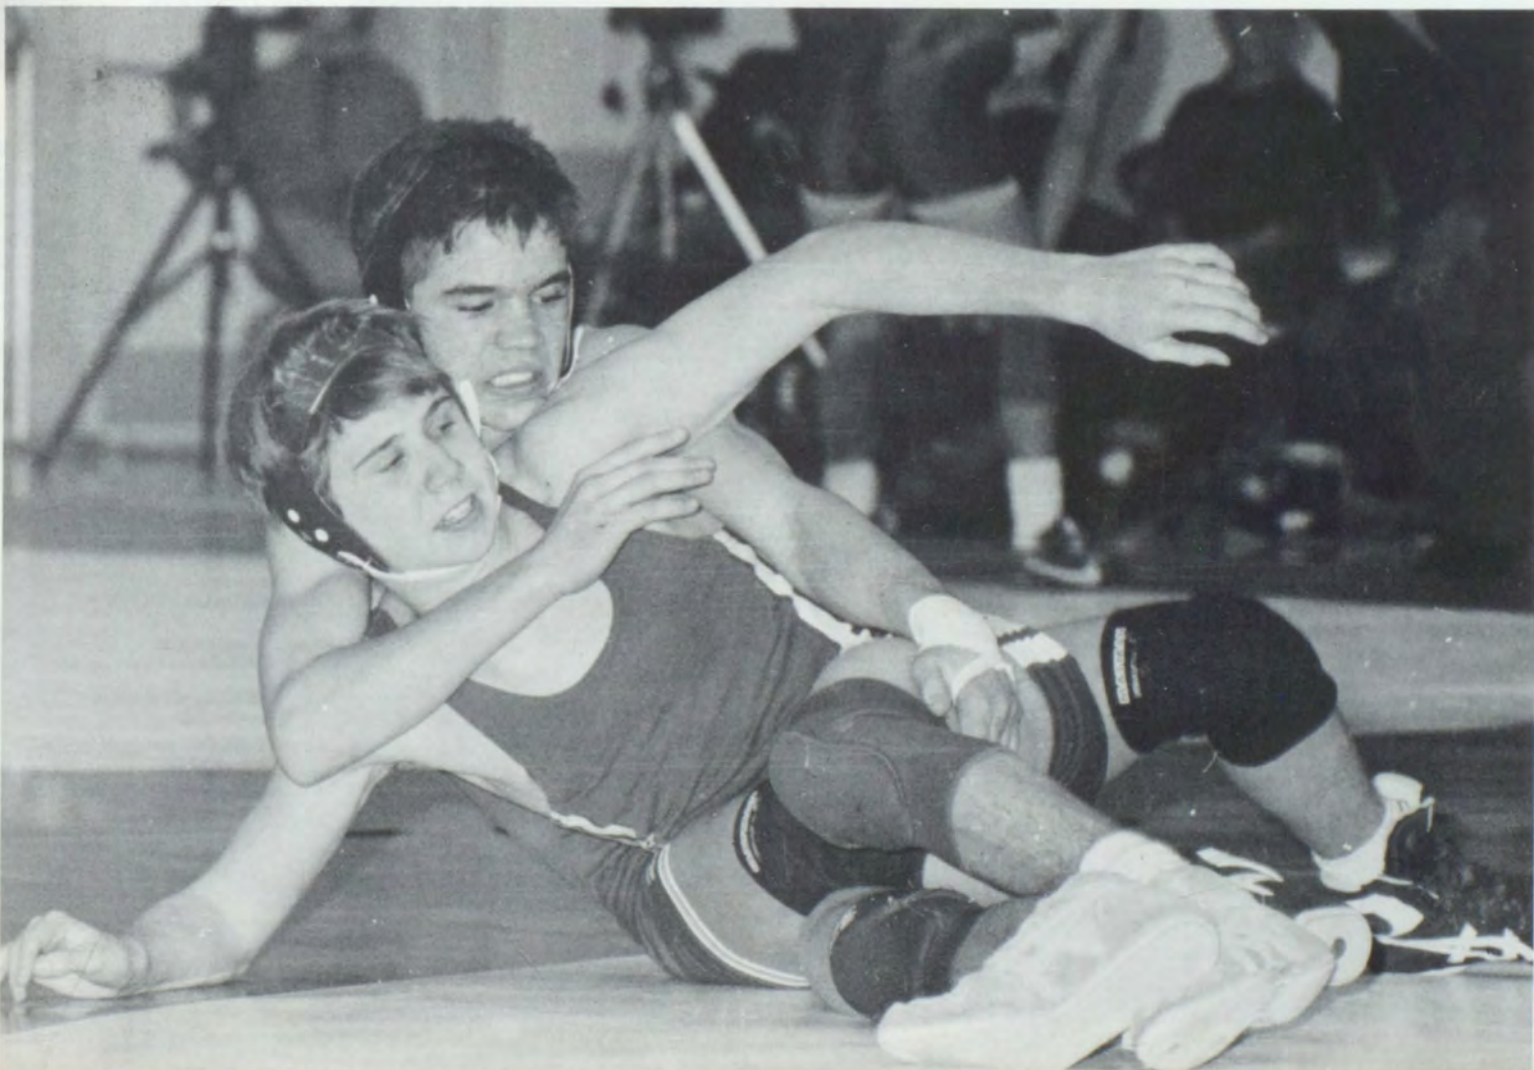

Four Wa-Hi wrestlers earned berths for state competition: junior David Sirmon, Sievertsen, senior Chad Tennant and junior George Martinez. Martinez, wrestling at 101 pounds, and Tennant, at 135 pounds, reign as the state champions.

Although there is a lot of talent on the team, much of the credit should go to the great coaching staff; Head Coach Al Sievertsen, Assistant Coach Joey Johnson and Assistant Coach Steve Echevarria.

Yet another victim has fallen under Carlos Martinez, wrestler extraordinaire!

It looks like Jon Bloom has this wrestler right where he wants him.

It's another victory for Mike Woods as he shows "I could have beaten him with my eyes closed."

David Woods and Terry Thomason concentrate intensely on their exercises during practice.

A defeated Brian Molden is cheered on by teammates Mike Woods and Shane Smith.

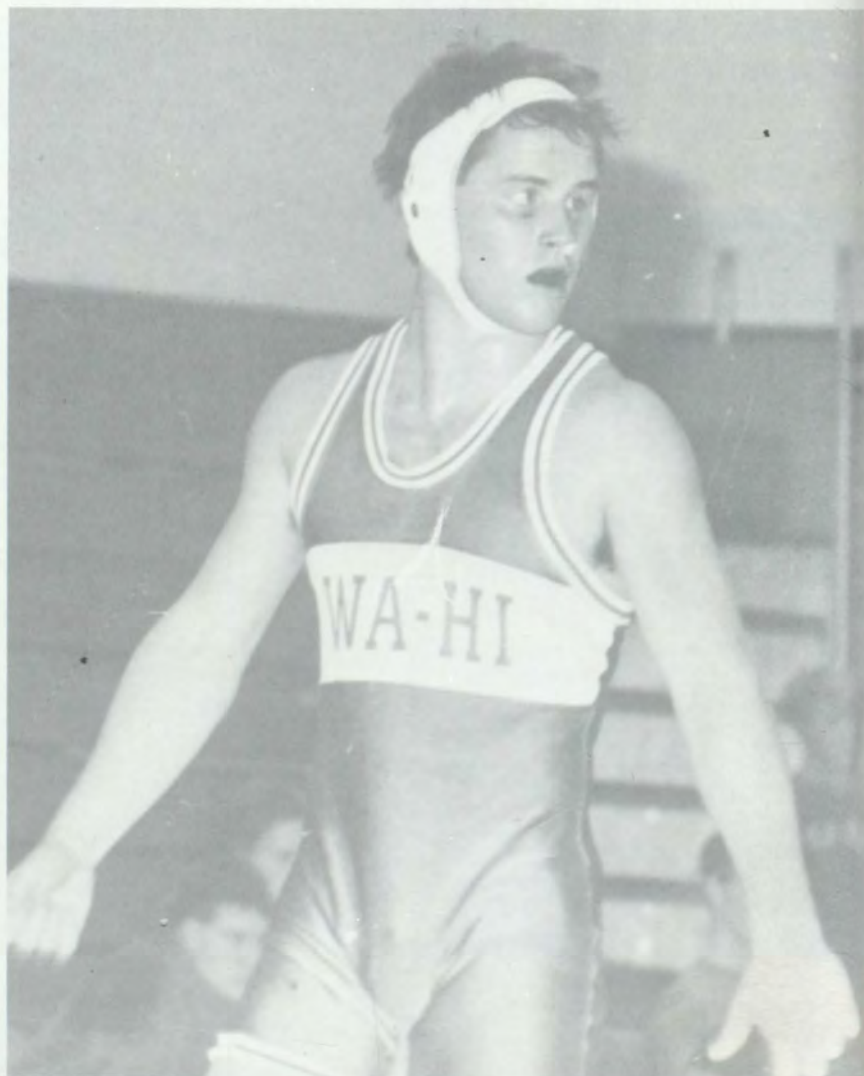

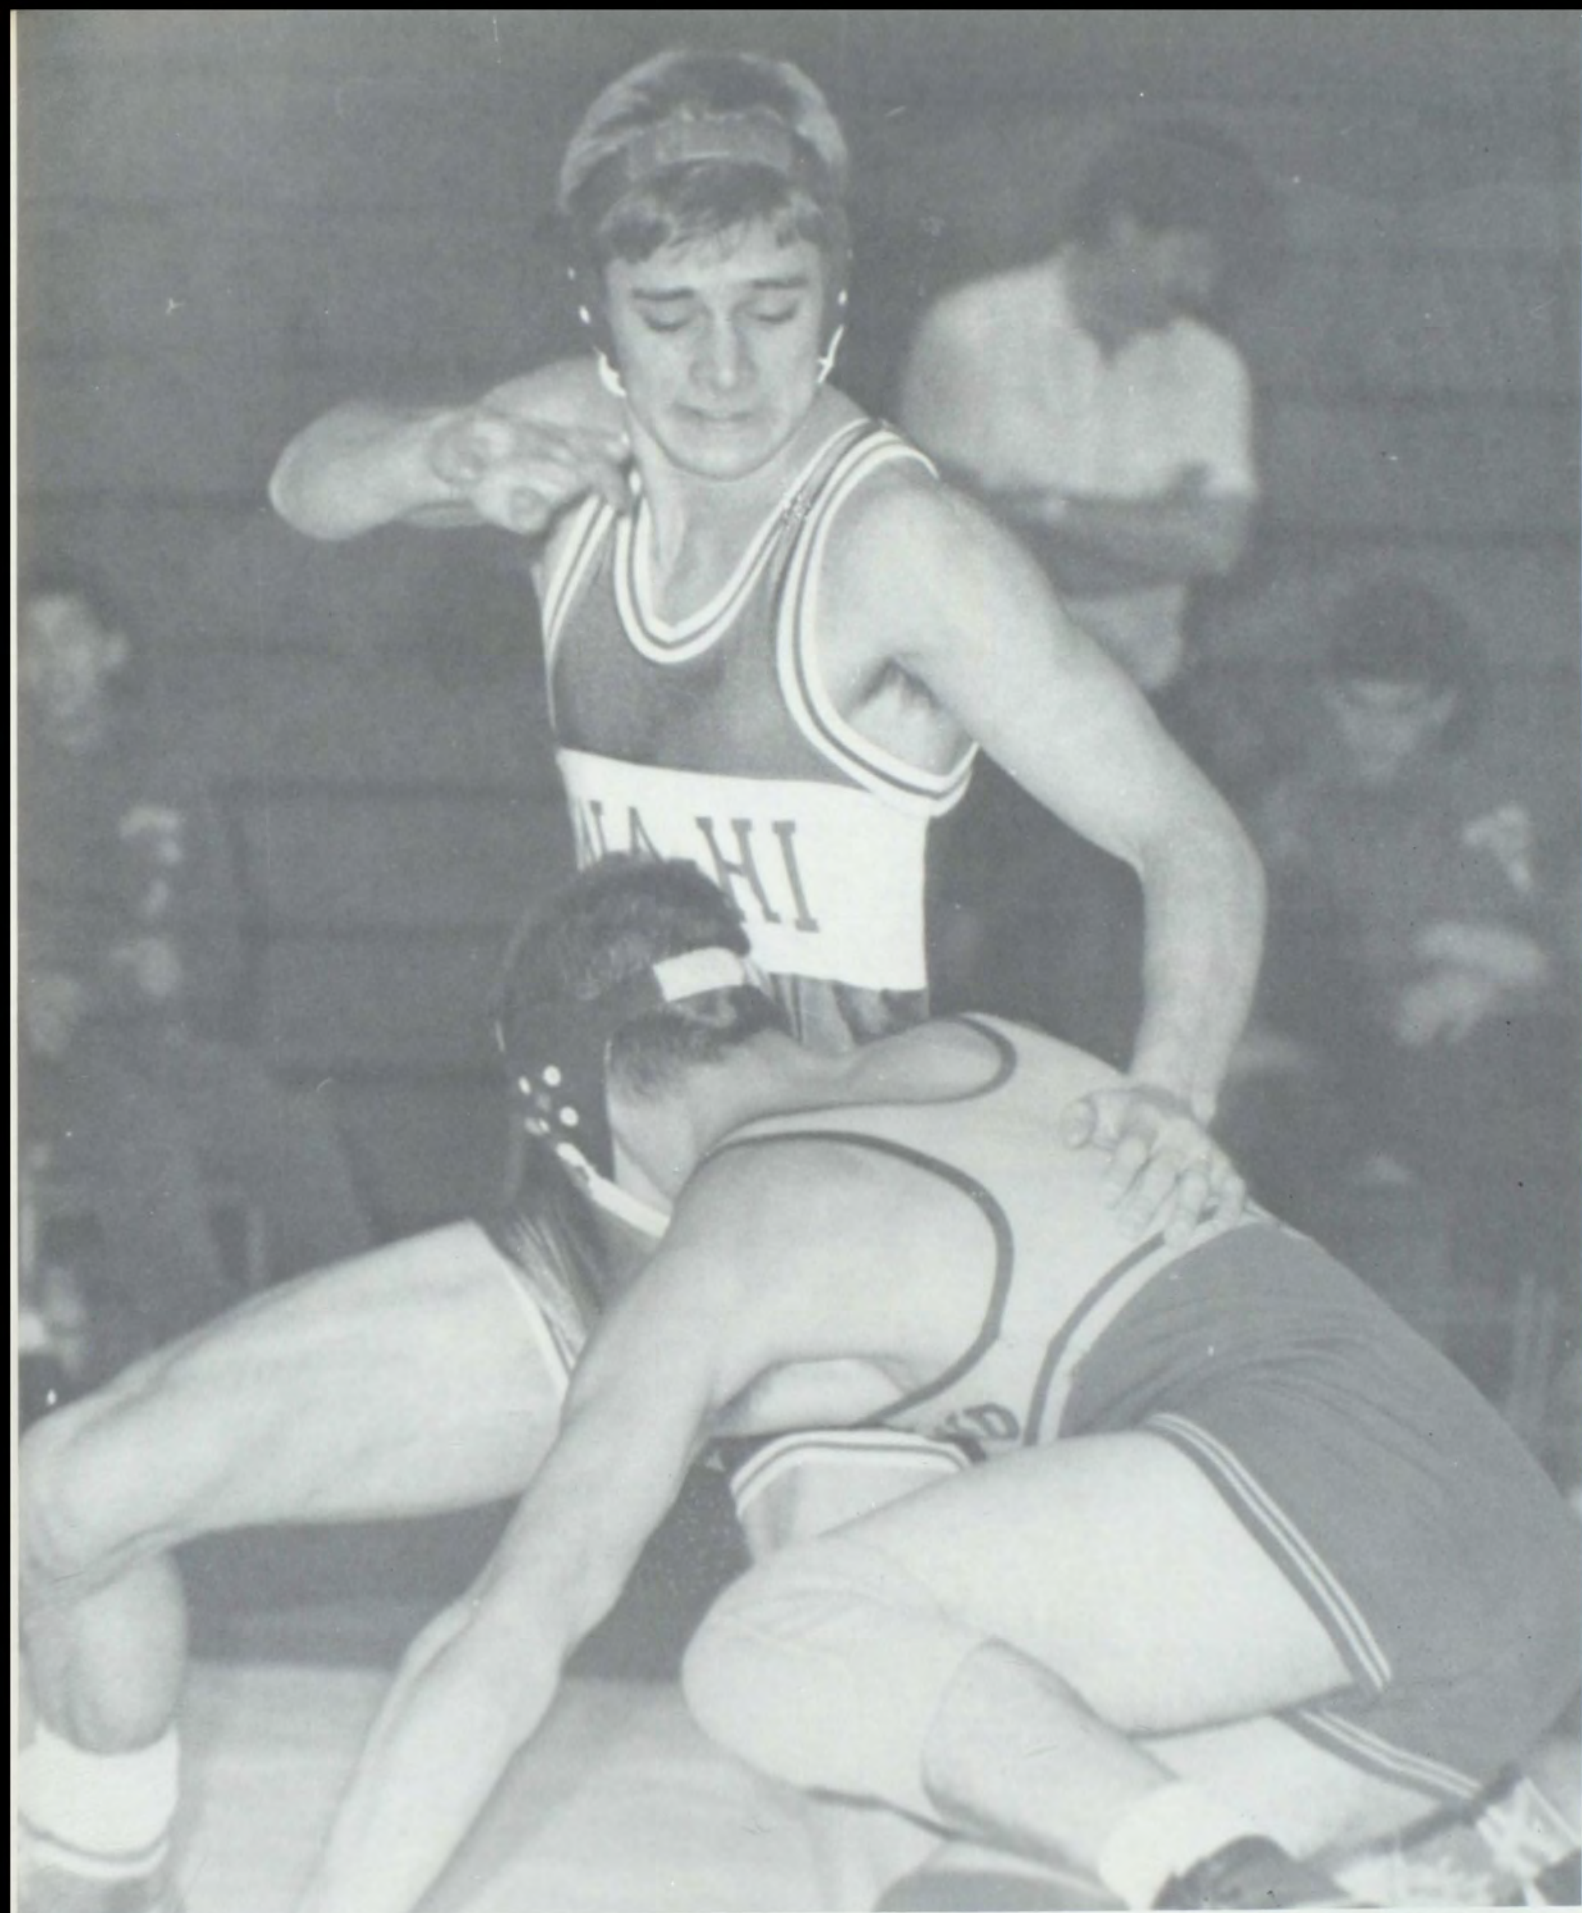

"You're going down," says wrestler Chris Ryan.

"Come on, you can do more push ups than that," Carlos Martinez indicates to his opponent as he helps him go down.

As Chris Ryan gets up from one win, he looks around to find his next victim.

Wa-Hi's wrestling fans appear to be confused as they witness Craig Sievertsen's spectacular karate moves.

Varsity makes playoffs despite rough beginning

by Bill Holway

This year the girls got off to a slow start with a losing record in the first half of the season. But in the second half they won three of the last four, with three games left at press time. The girls were headed into the playoffs.

Coach Jim Smith had to deal with the loss of seven graduates. Tall ones. Their replacements lacked the heighth, but made up for it with enthusiasm.

Amy Wilkins said, "We've been working as a team the whole year. But we've gotten better in the second half of the season. We have also taken more shots at the hoop. And we are making a great deal of them. And Candace (Spencer) has been making more of her three point shots."

Wilkins, Adele Bergevin and Spencer were the top scorers.

In the end the girls have come a long way in making a winning season.

Camrades beat odds

by Nichole Lane

The Wa-Hi Blue Devils, with a loss of last year's graduating seniors, have had a tough time dealing with reduced height in the players. Yet with three games left to play at press time, including Moses Lake, Eisenhower and Wenatchee, they stood at a 10-7 winning season, making them eligible for the playoffs.

"It's been quite an unbelievable season. 'Against all odds' would be a phrase that would characterize this season the best," stated Coach Jim Thacker. "Handicaps that would have been detrimental to most teams had really no damaging effects on this team. Lack of size and experience did not stop this team from being a winner."

Varsity player Scott O'Laughlin said, "I feel we are a better team this year because we are closer, and much harder workers."

If their spirit and attitude continues through the playoffs, there's no telling how far they can go.

This 1990-1991 Varsity Boys' Basketball team included: Chelan Ravenall, David Blocklinger, Jason Strang, Lance Sappington, Tom Waldron, John Royse, Scott O'Laughlin, Ryan Reibel, Kevin Michelson, Jeremy Jones and Darryl Galloway.

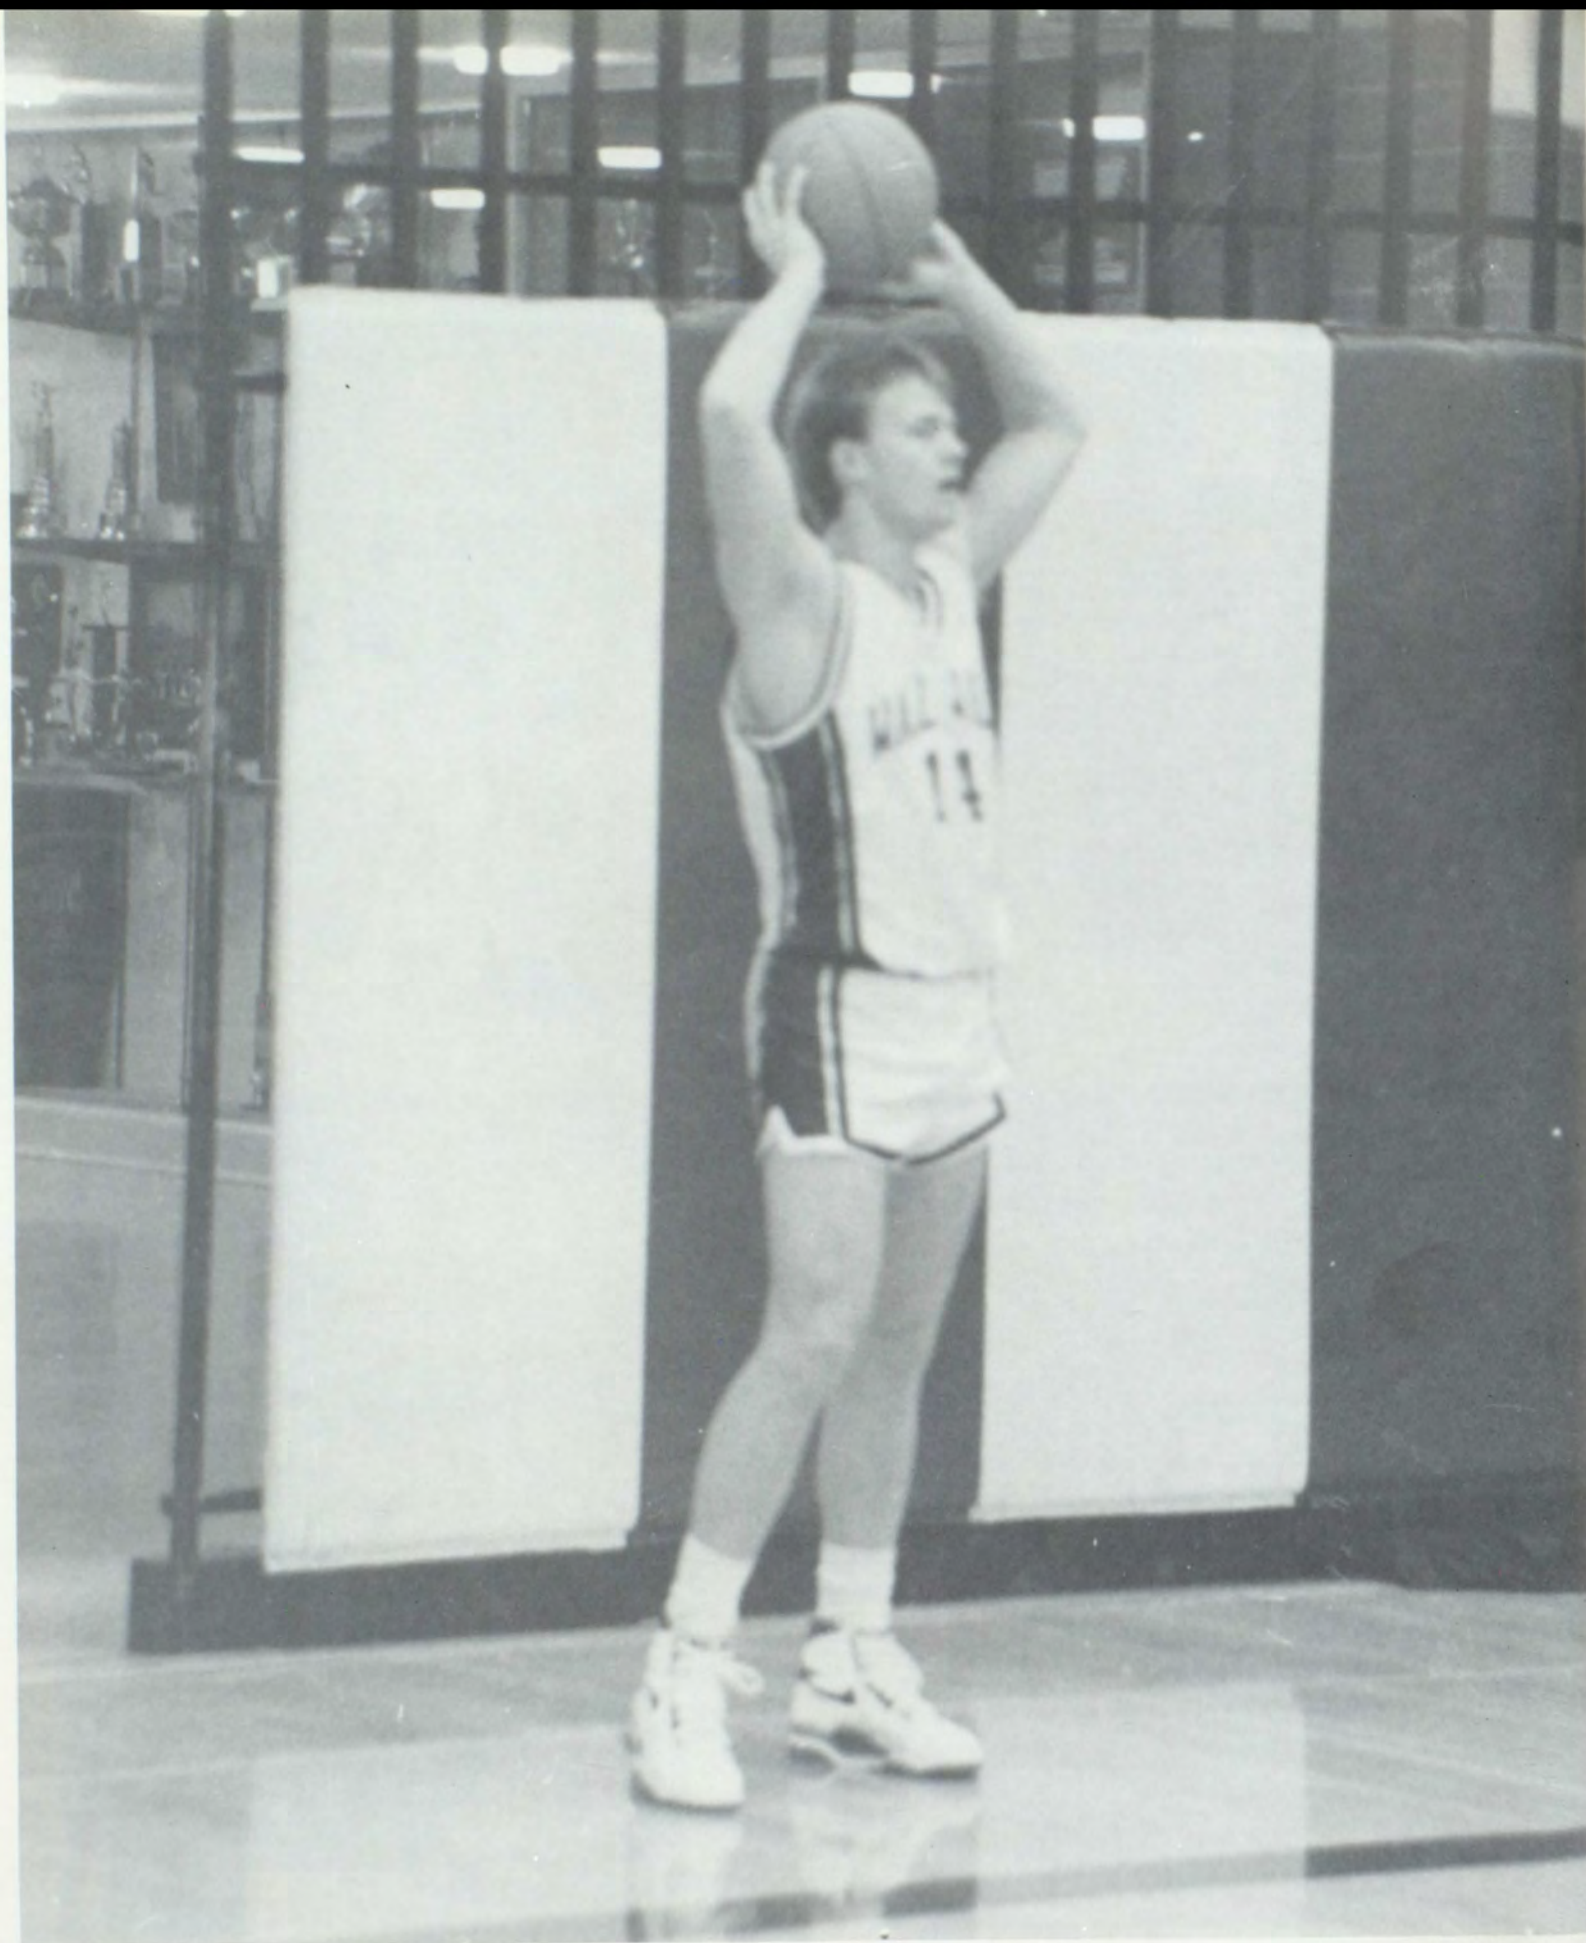

David Wagner appears as a blur as he uses his superhuman speed in an attempt to win the game.

Which way did he go? Which way did he go?

"This little piggie went to college, this little piggie went to the NBA..." states Tim the Trainer.

Ryan Carter takes a moment out of the game to think about who to pass into next.

The 1990-1991 Junior Varsity Boys' Basketball consisted of Ernie Ramirez, David Wagner, David Blocklinger, Kevin Michelson,, Jason Strang, Kelly Waldher, John Royse, Paul Boen, Ryan Carter, Mat Doeblor, Jeremy Jones and Fred Eubanks.

Our thanks to Lennae Christiansen and Shereen Thompson for coming in to retype all these names on their day off when the new computers ate our index on deadline day.

Thanks also to Ann Castoldi and the Army Corps of Engineers for trying to recover the original file.

And thanks especially to Bonnie Kuchenmeister and the Big Blue Boosters for their continued support of team photographs.

Lynnae Larson

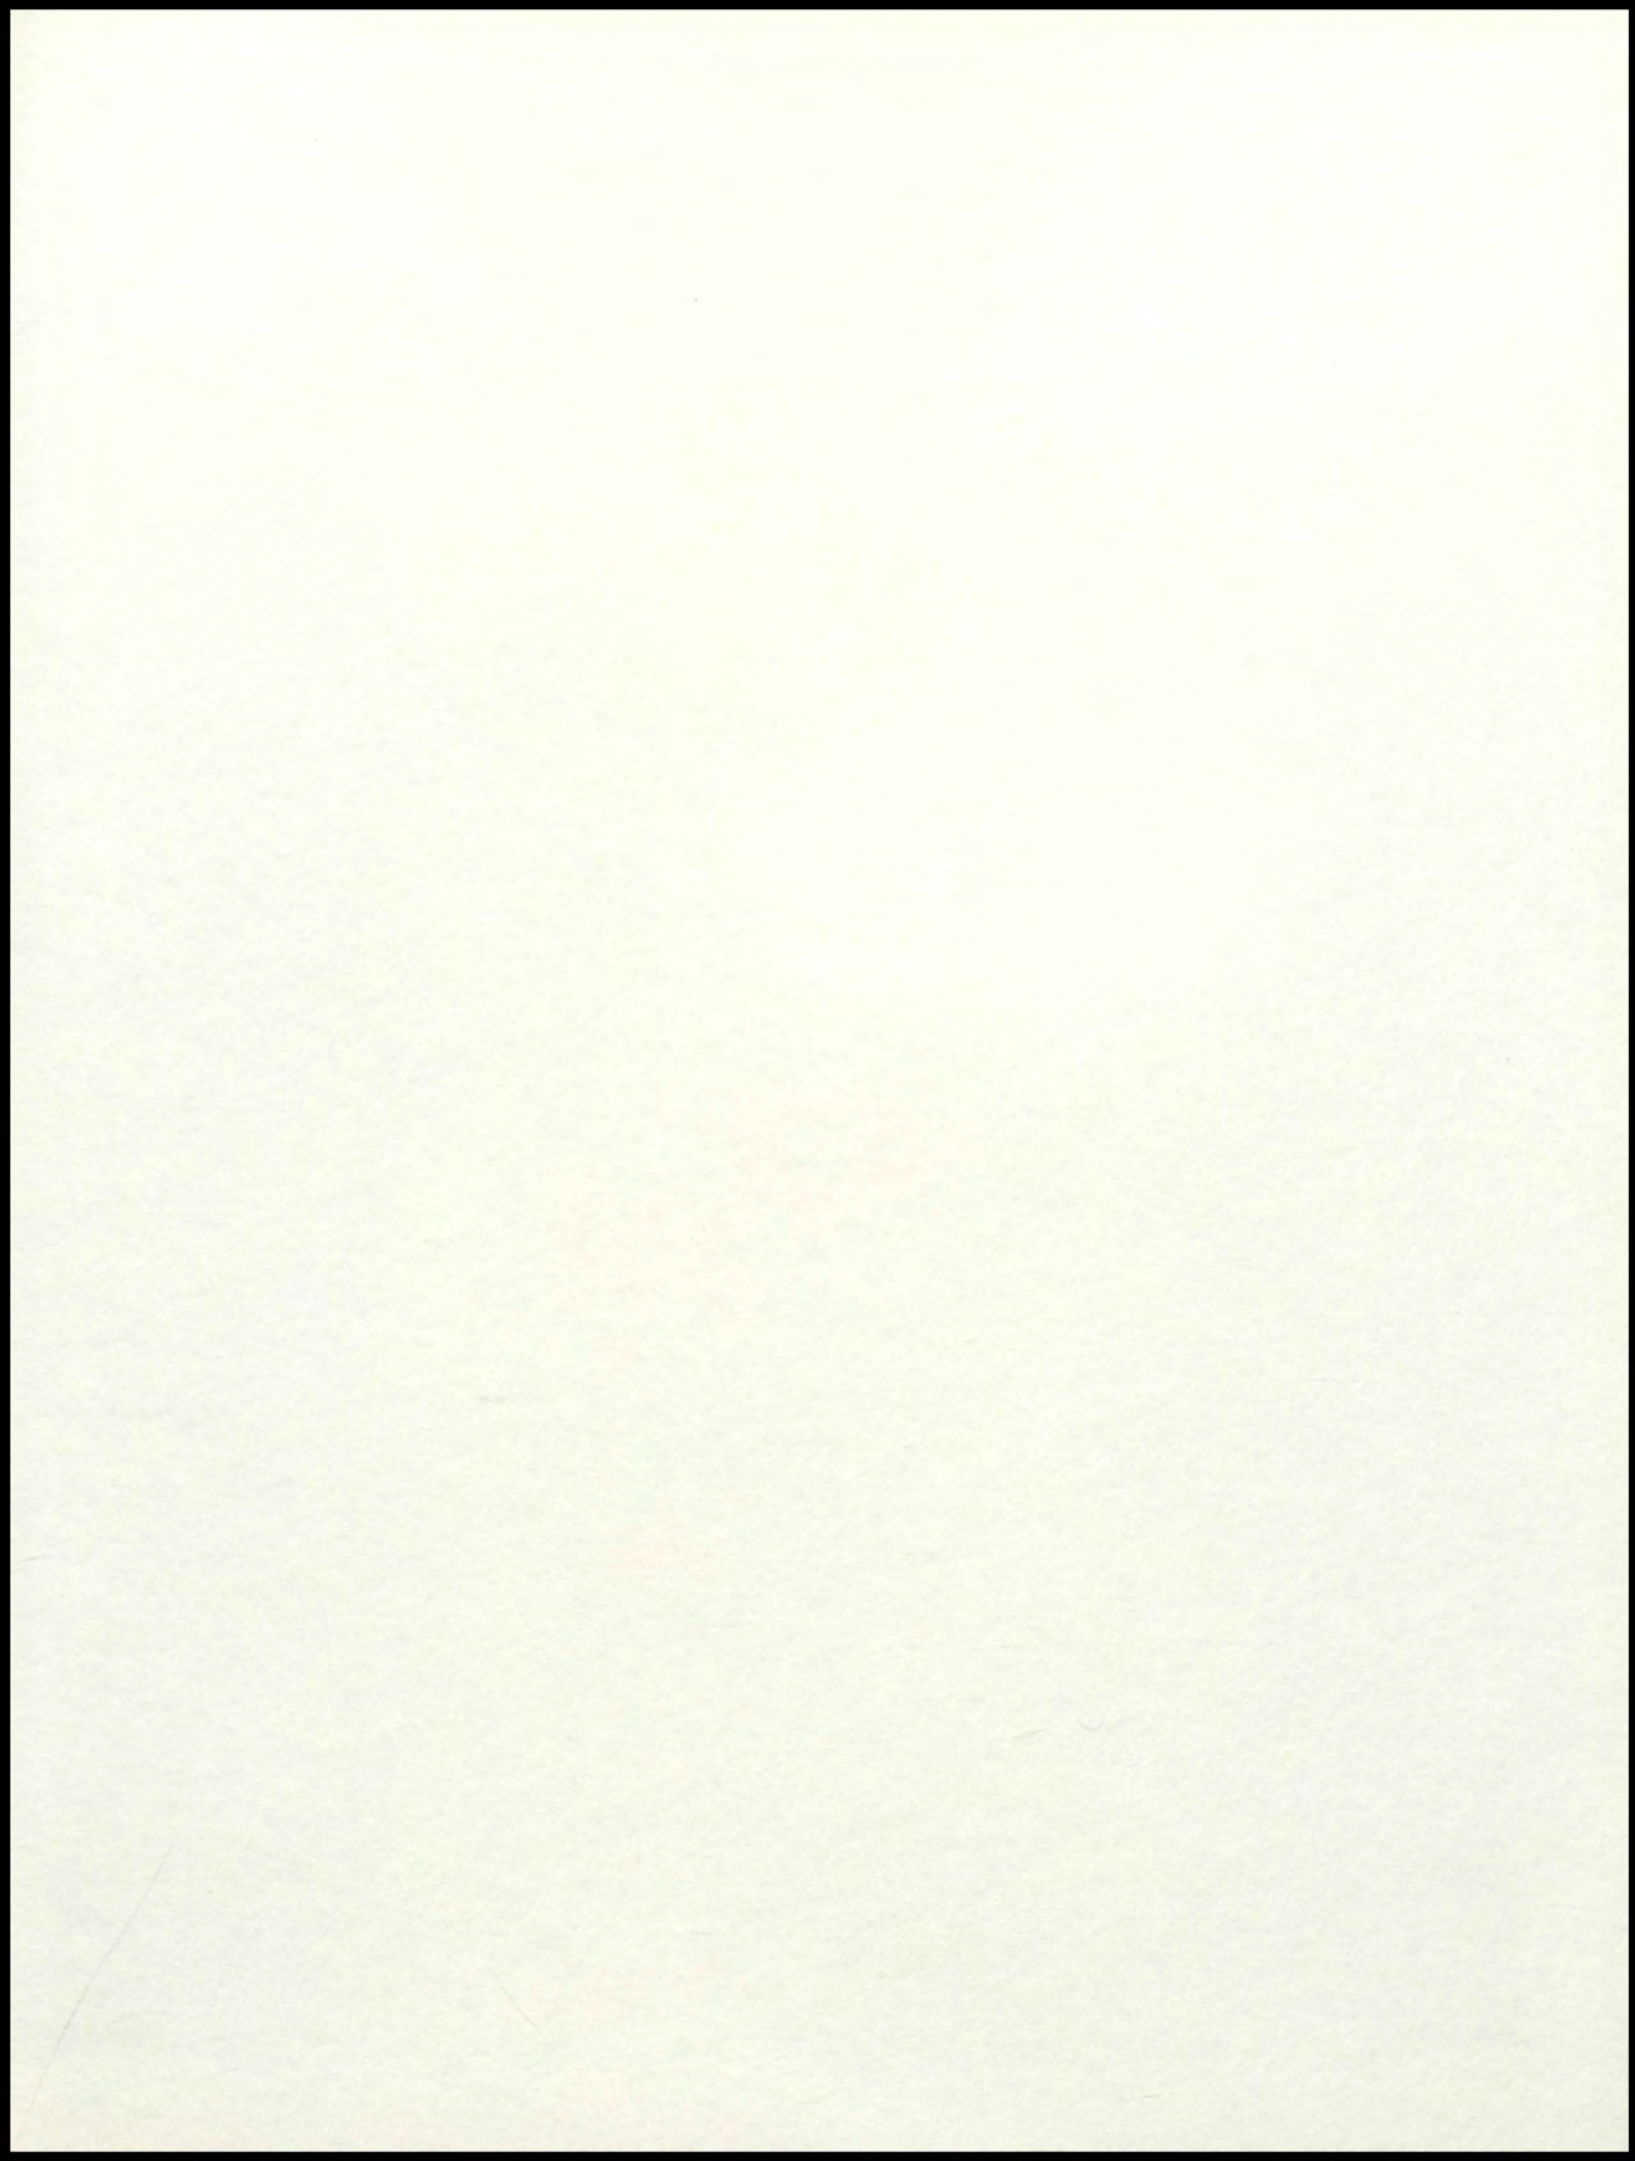

The Royal Blue 1991 staff worked erratically to finish the book by Feb. 7 and still lived to tell about it. Without the help of the Big Blue Boosters as well as several other campus groups and individuals, what you have seen here would not have been nearly the book you hold. The staff, including Bill Holway, Lyannae Larson, Advertising Manager Nichole Lane, Adviser Mary Schumacher, Annette Farnes (second semester), Alice Freilinger, Business Manager Christina Steiner, Editor Trish Gillespie, Bill Wendt, Co-Editor Sheila Merson and Photo Editor Devin Cadigan, hopes you enjoy its efforts to serve you. Not pictured are Tammy Dexter and Larry Dyer, and from first semester, Craig Johnson and Michelle Rambo.

The Wa-Hi Royal Blue is a student publication.
It is a forum for student expression.
Josten's American Yearbook Company printed the 1991 edition of the Royal Blue.

A staff of several dedicated students compiled the 200 pages of this year's annual.

The 1991 Royal Blue was created under the direction of Advisor
Mary Schumacher and assistant Advisor Nancy Klicker.
Student Editor-in-Chief Trish Gillespie and Sheila Merson directed the class in the compilation of the 1991 rendition of Organized Chaos.
